SEXUAL VIOLENCE AND SEXUAL HARASSMENT
TITLE IX SEX DISCRIMINATION IN EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS

Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 prohibit discrimination on the basis of sex in an educational institution. It applies in all aspects of education including academic programs, financial assistance, athletics and more. The sex discrimination prohibition includes sexual harassment and sexual violence. It states in part: No person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance. 20 U.S.C. § 1681.

This page provides information and resources regarding the important issues of sexual violence and sexual harassment. It also contains contact information for persons who can assist in the unlikely event that you should experience or observe this on a Ridgewater College campus. Ridgewater College, Minnesota State Colleges and Universities (MnSCU), and the U.S. Government take the issues of sexual violence and sexual harassment very seriously. On March 7, 2013, President Obama signed into law the Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act (VAWA). This new law requires that colleges and universities provide students and staff with sexual violence awareness training. This training is available on the Ridgewater Desire to Learn page. Ridgewater College is also utilizing the NO MORE campaign to promote awareness and stop sexual violence. www.nomore.org. NO MORE is a public awareness and engagement campaign focused on ending domestic violence and sexual assault.

SEXUAL VIOLENCE
1 in 4 women and 1 in 17 men will be victims of attempted or completed sexual violence while in college (National Institute of Justice).

Things we wish everybody knew*:
- Sexual assault happens
- Offenders are often “regular guys”
- False reports are not common
- Alcohol will more likely than not be involved
- Victims may not call it rape
- Trauma responses vary
- There is no typical victim
