Feedback Requested

In the past, NACEP required us to survey our principals, teachers and guidance counselors every three years. While that requirement has gone away, we still want your feedback! We are asking our stakeholders to take this brief, 6-minute survey. Your feedback is anonymous and will be used to help us identify ways to improve our program. We look forward to your suggestions!

We'd Love to Work with You!

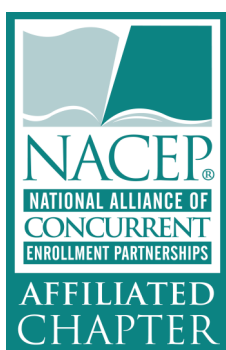

We are always looking at ways to expand our current College in the Schools partnerships, or begin new ones! If your high school is interested in exploring Liberal Arts or Career & Technical courses with us through College in the Schools, please contact Kelley McClure-Mork at 320-222-5210

NACEP Reaccreditation Update

Ridgewater College is currently preparing its documentation for reaccreditation with NACEP. One of the benefits of having a smaller program is our strong, collaborative team of mentors and high school teachers. The evidence submitted so far has been of excellent quality. Please note that if any additional evidence is needed, we'll reach out to you directly.

Our full application is due in June 2019, with the final decision announced in May 2020.

Friendly Reminders

- NACEP requires us to advise students and their families of various policies and information. Our preferred method is through the mail and we rely on a list from your high school with parent names/addresses. We've found that getting lists 6 weeks before the class starts is ideal. They can be emailed directly to Kelley at: kelly.mccluremork@ridgewater.edu
- In addition to mailing information, we've also started making school visits during the first week of class to advise students on how to be successful in a college level course, available resources, etc. These visits have been well received! Kelley will be in contact with you to schedule spring visits.

As 2018 comes to a close and 2019 is just a few weeks away, we want to say THANK YOU for your continued feedback and collaborating with us—either through Perkins, College in the Schools or both! We look forward to our continued partnership with you.
