FEATURED ALUMNI STORY

HOLLY WALTERS

Current Occupation:

Anthropologist

Ridgewater Program:

Liberal Arts (Generals)

Ridgewater Grad Year:

1999

I'm a Hutchinson, MN native. But as a then-17 year old (in 1997), living on my own with little family support, I didn't have a lot of options for college no matter how "promising" my high school teachers told me I was. I desperately wanted to go to college, but I couldn't afford to move, support myself, and pay tuition. It was just out of the question.

Jorge Alejandro Uvalle

Machine Tool Student & Scholarship Recipient

When you were a student at Ridgewater College, you likely had groceries to buy, rent to pay, and countless other things to worry about. You may remember the stress you experienced when unexpected expenses arose.

If anyone would understand the impact that a little bit of financial support can have on a student at Ridgewater College, it's you. And right now, there are more ways

"I am a husband and a father to three children. There is nothing more important than investing in yourself, in your education. I truly am thankful for your generosity and your contribution in assisting me to become a Machine Tool graduate. My family and I thank you!"

than ever before to support Ridgewater College students and help them succeed.

Just Art - Challenging Racism and Promoting Social Justice

Art takes many forms. Paintings, drawings, and sculptures are all examples. Art also includes other forms of expression. Art can be music, drama, and writing. It can be photography, videos, and dance. In short, art allows us to express ourselves through many different formats and media.

With this in mind, Ridgewater created the Just Art project as way for our students, faculty, staff, Alumni and community to express their feelings regarding social justice, racism, and the death of George Floyd. Just Art is a community Facebook page where you're invited to submit your art as we move forward and come together following this tragic event.
