Hutchinson and Willmar Campuses

About the Program

Turn your passion for little ones into a career of care and developmental education for infants, toddlers, and preschoolers.

Prepare for quick entry into the workforce or a solid foundation for a bachelor's degree with the Early Childhood Education Transfer Pathway Associate of Science Degree.

Coursework topics include:

- Child growth and development
- Language and literacy
- Diverse children/family relations
- Behavior guidance
- Health, safety and nutrition

The combination of practical on-site experience and convenient online learning prepares you for many career options with an Associate of Science Degree. You could be an assistant teacher or teacher in a preschool or childcare center. Other opportunities include working at a Head Start or opening an in-home child care.

Want more? Transfer your AS degree into an Early Childhood Education Bachelor's Degree to teach prekindergarten through third grade with a MN teaching license.

Program Distinctions

- Strong industry partnerships to support internships and high-demand careers
- Low student-to-teacher ratios for engaging, personal attention
- Challenging coursework to prepare students for employment or transfer
- Affordable tuition and education scholarships
- Free, supportive, academic tutoring
